Natural Gas Association of Georgia Celebrates 2025 Everyday Energy Heroes Being Honored by State House & Senate

Atlanta, GA — The Natural Gas Association of Georgia (NGA) proudly recognizes seven outstanding individuals as recipients of its inaugural Everyday Energy Hero honor, following the official reading of both a Georgia State Senate Resolution and House Resolution at the State Capitol on March 25, 2026.

The resolutions, adopted by the Georgia General Assembly, commends the 2025 Everyday Energy Heroes for their exceptional service and contributions to delivering safe, reliable natural gas to communities across the state.

The 2025 Everyday Energy Heroes are:

- Lonnie Robinson, City of Commerce
- Robert Gordon, DeKalb County
- Alex Philmon, City of Sugar Hill
- Everett Rhodes, City of Waynesboro
- Danny Hughes, City of Claxton
- Tabitha Shephard, Southstar Energy Services
- David Martin, Mansfield Power and Gas

“These individuals represent dedicated workers across the natural gas industry,” said Carl Garofalo, Chairman of the Board for NGA. “Their dedication ensures that more than two million homes and businesses across our state receive dependable energy every day. We are honored to see their work recognized by the Georgia State House and Senate.”

The Everyday Energy Heroes Campaign, launched in 2025, highlights the vital contributions of natural gas professionals who work behind the scenes to fuel Georgia’s homes, businesses, and communities safely and efficiently.

The Georgia State Senate and House resolutions formally congratulates the honorees and acknowledges their outstanding service to the state and its residents.
